Jacques Sanche assumes role as Chair of the Board at Burckhardt Compression

As of today, December 15, 2025, Jacques Sanche will assume the role of Chair of the Board of Directors of Burckhardt Compression. His appointment follows the succession plan communicated in June 2025 and the transition period with outgoing Chair Ton Büchner.

Welcoming Jacques Sanche as new Chair

Elected as an independent Board member in July 2025, Jacques Sanche brings decades of international industrial leadership experience and a strong track record as CEO of major global Swiss companies. His strategic and operational expertise aligns closely with Burckhardt Compression's long-term objectives, including innovation, sustainability, and global growth. In earlier remarks, Jacques Sanche highlighted his enthusiasm for the role: "I have admired the key role that Burckhardt Compression is playing as the world diversifies its energy sources. With its strategic focus on a more sustainable future, the company has strong momentum. It is an honor to support the great team at Burckhardt Compression."

Honoring Ton Büchner's tenure

The Board and Executive Management extend their sincere appreciation to Ton Büchner, who has served as Chair since 2020. During his tenure, Burckhardt Compression strengthened its global market position, advanced its strategic focus on energy transition markets, and delivered sustained profitable growth. His leadership, steady governance, and commitment to long-term value creation have been instrumental in shaping the company's trajectory over the past years. He leaves behind a solid foundation for continued expansion. The Board expresses its gratitude for his dedication, collaboration, and strategic foresight.

Looking ahead

With the transition now complete, the Board of Directors continues its work under Jacques Sanche's leadership. Together with the company's management, the Board remains committed to driving sustainable growth, innovation, and long-term value for all stakeholders.
